EVERYDAY ACTIVITIES TO REINFORCE LITERACY AND NUMERACY SKILLS

THANKS TO EVERYONE FOR TAKING THE TIME OUT OF YOUR BUSY DAYS TO ATTEND THE PARENT INFORMATION READING SESSIONS AND FOR THE GREAT SUGGESTIONS AND FEEDBACK.

We are taking on board the suggestions and I thought it useful to share the suggestions and feedback with you.

In the next newsletter I will include the books that are in the library from the lists and answer a question from a parent about home reading.

If you have any more suggestions, I'd love to hear from you.

PARENT SUGGESTIONS FOR FUTURE SESSIONS:

More videos demonstrating home reading.
More sessions.
Less teacher talk.
Clarifying words e.g. phonics, inferring.
Use of phonics, sounds, magic words.
Strategies to improve expression in an older reader.

More time on strategies.
More time.
A little more detail if time permits.
How to keep kids attention.
More interactive content.

PARENT FEEDBACK FROM THE

Very helpful, no suggestions.

Loved it all ... very helpful.

All very helpful, thank you.

Outlining the importance and value of reading is great.

Fantastic

Helpful, liked the laminated prompt cards.

Very well presented.

The video clips were useful.

Found session extremely useful – good tips and reminders for Love these sessions.

Excellent.

It was very informative.

Lovely and simple – focus on what we can do to support what they are doing at school with reading.

Many thanks to Nicole Evans, Margi Gray, Lisa Busuttil and Catherine Skinner for covering the new Readers that we have.

Your time is much appreciated.
