Brad Williams from Perth based company Behaviour Tonics will give a 1 hour overview of this simple and effective approach to managing students difficult behaviour, before taking questions from the floor. Already a very popular program in WA, it can be used as a whole school approach or in individual classrooms. This program looks to build students self control and allow teachers to spend more time on teaching rather than crowd control. Take this opportunity to satisfy your curiosity and enjoy this informative and entertaining presentation from a leading parenting & behaviour consultant.

This program is not new. Besides being implemented in schools, it is a very popular program for Australian parents with tens of thousands having participated in the 3 meeting workshop.

Behaviour Tonics are the licensed parent practitioner trainers in WA & NT and the only persons permitted to conduct training and consultancy to schools and child care services.
